FATTORIA DI BASCIANO
Chianti Rufina 2009

“Dark mulberry and black cherry notes are supported by well-integrated oak in this dense red. Hints of licorice and tobacco reveal more of its sense of place, and this finishes fresh and long. Best from 2013 through 2020.”

Nestled in the hills just East of Florence, Fattoria di Basciano, carefully produces tiny quantities of extremely high quality wine. This estate producer made just 18,000 cases of this Chianti and it is comprised of 95% Sangiovese and 5% Colorino. Aged in new and one year old French Oak, this wine is complex and ready to drink. It will also benefit from further bottle aging, If you can wait.
