Brand Highlights

- 100% Moscato grapes in clear glass with Stelvin Closure
- Well balanced, juicy and sweet with a crisp finish
- A great value compared to DOCG versions

The Estate

The original winery was built in 1848 adjacent to the Benedictine Abbey, under the name Abbazia di San Gaudenzio. After three generations, the Santero family is proud of the fact that they still own and operate their winery at such an historical site. This Piedmontese estate is able to harvest and vinify Moscato from neighboring areas including Pavia, where the Moscato grapes cost a bit less while still possessing the intense and juicy flavors Moscato is known for.

Wine Making

Moscato grapes are harvested and gently pressed with the resulting juice being stored at very cold temperatures in stainless steel vats. When wine is needed, this unfermented juice is pumped into the winery and allowed to warm up where the yeasts activate and begin a slow, controlled fermentation in a closed vat that captures the carbon dioxide given off during fermentation. This is “captured” in the wine giving it the fresh “frizzante” texture and slight sparkle.

Tasting Notes

The elegant bouquet promises fresh juicy peaches and pear flavors with an intensity and ripeness rarely found. The crisp, sweet, and slightly effervescent texture is in perfect balance with the acidity and lightness the wine delivers.
