Sunday Mountain

SAUVIGNON BLANC 2009
Marlborough, New Zealand

Sunday Mountain is wine that pays homage to the picturesque valley where the grapes are grown. Just south of the city of Blenheim lies the Awatere Valley. The label depicts a small mountain rise outside of the wine city of Blenheim, where “Blenheimers pique” in the summer time.

Our taste profile includes the obligatory “gooseberry” nose, but the unique microclimate mitigates that nuance and gives more of a tropical, citrus and grapefruit flavor, yielding a softer texture. Crisp acidity makes for great structure and it is perfect as an aperitif, and pairs beautifully with seafood.
