DOC

Brand Highlights

- 100% Arneis from the Piedmont region of Italy
- Veteran winemaker Gianni Voerzio is joined by Mirko & Federica Martini to introduce a new premium family of wines from grapes indigenous to the Piedmont region
- Bricco Cappellina is the name of the vineyard—most vines are more than 35 years old planted in sandy soil

The Estate

VoerzioMartini introduces the newest generation of wine makers in Piedmont, Italy. Gianni Voerzio has been making wine for more than 30 years in these vineyards....he is now joined by twins Mirko & Federica Martini who will continue the brand's terroir-driven winemaking tradition. The vineyards are located in Langhe, a wine region within Piedmont known for its beautiful rolling hills topped by picturesque towns. With eight hectares of total vineyard land located in the La Morra region of the Langhe, the wines from VoerzioMartini emphasize the characteristics of the soil and terroir of this fast growing wine region.

Wine Making

The winery is located in La Morra. Federika handles the operational side of the business while Mirko is the head winemaker, with guidance and mentoring from Gianni. Mirko's approach is a more traditional style—lots of concentration, less new oak and larger barrels for aging. The selection of the grapes takes place in the vineyard. Maceration of the Arneis lasts 12 hours using dry ice to extract maximum aromatics and color from the grapes. Dry ice keeps the wine from oxidizing—VoerzioMartini is one of the only wineries that uses this technique. Fermentation takes place in stainless steel tanks.

Tasting Notes

This wine is straw yellow with beautiful green reflections. Delicate notes of fresh melon on the nose. Fresh nectarine and peach notes deliver a harmonious balance of acid & sweet with a touch of soft minerality on the finish.
